The author Zhiqiang Ruan has plagiarized parts of a paper that had already appeared in IEEE Transactions on Information Forensics and Security in 2017 titled "Security of Cached Content in NDN." vol. 12, no. 12, pp. 2933-2944, DOI: 10.1109/TIFS.2017.2725229. Upon request of original authors, Tech Science Press conducted an institutional investigation which confirmed the misconduct. During the investigation, the corresponding author Zhiqiang Ruan also declared that he submitted the paper without knowledge and permission of Haibo Luo, Wenzhong Lin and Jie Wang in the author list, and used fake email addresses and their signatures on the copyright form. After being informed of the misconduct of the published paper, Zhiqiang Ruan acknowledges the plagiarism and apologizes solemnly to the original authors. In addition, he requests to retract the article from CMC and will take full responsibility for the corrections and retraction.

Tech Science Press is fully committed to enforcing strict ethical policies and follow the COPE Retraction Guidelines. The essential condition of submission of a paper for publication in CMC is that authors must declare explicitly that their works are original and have not been previously published elsewhere. Re-use of any data should be appropriately cited. To set the record straight, we hereby announce the retraction of the paper, and would like to sincerely apologize to our readers for any inconvenience this may have caused.
